DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's response filed 6/23/2006 has been entered.

Terminal Disclaimer

The terminal disclaimer filed on 6/23/2006 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of US Patent 6,956,991 has been reviewed and is NOT accepted.

The terminal disclaimer does not comply with 37 CFR 1.321(b) and/or (c) because:

The terminal disclaimer was not signed.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 10 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-7 of U.S. Patent No. 6,956,991 B2.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims 1-7 of the patent recite all of the structure recited in claims 1, 2, 4 and 7 of the present application plus additional structure. Although the claims are not identical, broader claims 1, 2, 4 and 7 of the present application are rendered obvious by the more specific claims 1-7 of the patent. U.S. Patent No. 6,956,991 B2 does not disclose having the continuously variable optical delay line before the incrementally variable optical delay line. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to place the continuously variable optical delay line before the incrementally variable optical delay line, since it has been held that rearranging parts of an invention involves only routine skill in the art. U.S. Patent No. 6,956,991 B2 also does not teach a chirped grating. Using any other known continuously variable optical delay line including chirped grating, ring resonators would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to provide continuous delays.

Claims 3, 8 and 9 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-7 of U.S. Patent No. 6,956,991 B2 in view of Baldwin et al (U.S. Patent 5,943,636). As described above, U.S. Patent No. 6,956,991 B2 teach the claimed limitation except the claimed discrete delay lengths comprising a set of paths having at least one regions of parallel paths and a second region wherein each path differs in curvature to produce incrementally different path lengths. Using such configuration to provide incrementally variable optical delay line is known in the art as shown by Baldwin et al (see Fig.

1). Thus using any known incrementally variable optical delay line such as one taught by

Baldwin et al would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide incremental delays.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
